

I object to a 10% electricity price increase. That is excessive, especially since it is on top of previous large increases. Should be no more than 3%.