

With Electricity going up over 80% since 2006 Regional Queenslanders wonder whether it is worth while continuing to live outside the South East Corner. These increases are not sustainable for businesses and communities in the future. Please come up with alternative solutions without huge price jumps without any tangible benefits. Regional Queensland is already under huge pressure with other increases including transport, freight and medical costs. We leave you this question; how can you justify these increases when CPI has basically gone up less than 3% per annum for the last 10 years and these increases are an average of 10% per annum for the last 10 years.
